Stewardship Minute:

"For God so loved the world that he gave his only Son..."
- JOHN 3:16

Of all the wonderful gifts that God has given to us, the gift of His own Son is truly the greatest. How can we ever thank God for a gift like that? God does not ask us to sacrifice our own precious firstborn, but He does ask that we are grateful and generous with our God-given gifts. That we nurture and develop them and return with increase.

Adoration Moment

"In the Mass and in Eucharistic Adoration we meet the merciful love of God that passes through the Heart of Jesus Christ."

ENCOUNTER ANDRISE

We encounter Andrise, a teacher in Haiti who knows the importance of forming young people who will give back to the community—and their country. Reflect on the role teachers have played in bringing you closer to God and your community. How can you support those, worldwide, who are forced to flee their homes to find safety or better opportunities? Visit crsricebowl.org for more information.

This Week's Mass Prayers for Contemplation

Fourth Sunday of Lent

Collect

O God, who through your Word reconcile the human race to yourself in a wonderful way, grant, we pray, that with prompt devotion and eager faith the Christian people may hasten toward the solemn celebrations to come.

Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.

Prayer over the Offerings

We place before you with joy these offerings, which bring eternal remedy, O Lord, praying that we may both faithfully revere them and present them to you, as is fitting, for the salvation of all the world. Through Christ our Lord.

Prayer after Communion

O God, who enlighten everyone who comes into this world, illuminate our hearts, we pray, with the splendor of your grace, that we may always ponder what is worthy and pleasing to your majesty and love you in all sincerity. Through Christ our Lord. to true completion. Through Christ our Lord.

LAETARE SUNDAY

What is Laetare Sunday?

By John R. Sachs

The Fourth Sunday of Lent is commonly known as Laetare Sunday. Laetare is Latin for “Rejoice!” Why rejoice in Lent? Well, if we still fasted the way the Church did beginning in the 4th century, when the custom of a 40-day penitential period of fast and abstinence before Easter spread throughout the whole church, we’d be all too ready to rejoice. Lent is about half over! “Rejoice” happens to be the first word of the Entrance Antiphon for the Mass on that day. (Before Vatican II, the Antiphon was a short scriptural text, often chanted, that served as a kind of introductory rite to the Mass. Today we usually begin the Sunday celebration of the Mass with an opening song.)

To be sure, part of the joy that this ancient custom has invited believers to over the years is to feel and express a break from fasting and other penances. We use festive music, flowers and beautiful rose-colored vestments, all in anticipation of the coming Easter feast. Indeed, some Christian churches consider Laetare Sunday a kind of “small Easter.” In fact, this custom can deepen and enrich our understanding of the purpose of Lent.

The season of Lent is a time for both sacrifice and celebration. Laetare Sunday might be a good opportunity to think of Lenten practices that open you up to become a more joyful person. You might give something up to break usual habits and become more centered. You might do something new that adds more joy to your daily routine. Both can help you prepare for Easter and ask God for the grace to desire new life in Christ more than the many other things we might have been focused on.

By the way, here’s that antiphon in full:

“Rejoice, Jerusalem, and all who love her. Be joyful, all who were in mourning; exult and be satisfied at her consoling breast.” ~ Isaiah 66:10-11

In its original context, the Jewish people were enslaved exiles from their homeland and the prophet was announcing that divine deliverance from the “Babylonian Captivity” was at hand. Therefore, the people can rejoice, for they would soon return to their home, and to its capital, “mother” Jerusalem. On Laetare Sunday, it is most appropriate to pray for peace.
