The Ascension of the Lord

"I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end." (Revelations 22:13)
This is a reminder of how we should live our lives 24 hours a day, 7 days a week – putting God first in all that we do. Not only when I am at Mass and parish activities, but when I am in the world, at work, or at school. Living gratefully and generously is an intentional lifestyle. Every decision you make either moves you closer to God or farther away. Choose wisely!

Father's Day Collection for Retired Diocesan Priests

On Sunday June 15, 2025, you are invited to give to the Father's Day collection for Diocesan Retired Priests. As the number of retired priests increases in the Diocese of Crookston, your generosity is critical. Funds provide for the needs of our retired priests, including Medicare supplement premiums and continuing education. Please begin praying about giving a gift in gratitude for the blessings you and your family received from retired priests.

Happy Birthday wishes!

Prayer: A Conversation Between Friends

Perhaps the best image for prayer is a conversation between friends. What should this ongoing conversation, this deepening friendship, look like? Let me offer four suggestions.

First, the most important thing with regard to any friendship is that we take the time. Thomas Merton, the greatest spiritual teacher of the 20th century, was once asked, "What is the best thing I can do to improve my prayer life?" His simple answer: "Take the time." If you claimed that a certain person was your best friend but had to admit that you spend almost no time with him, people would laugh at you. But a lot of people will say that God is the most important person in their life and yet spend next to no time speaking or listening to him. Don't say blithely, "I find God in all things." Reserve time for God—both when you feel like it and when you don't. Perhaps it is in the morning; Perhaps it's late at night. Maybe it's in the car (which can be a very good place to pray—your own little monastic cell); maybe it's an hour or even a half hour before the Blessed Sacrament. In a way, it doesn't matter, as long as it is substantial and intentional time with God. Under this rubric, we might even speak of prayer as wasting time with God.

When you speak to God during this time of prayer you also must speak with honesty. What would happen to a human relationship in which honesty did not hold sway? It would quickly grow cold and superficial. How do you feel when a friend is keeping important things from you, dissembling, or covering up? Far too often in prayer, we tell God what we think he wants to hear, presenting ourselves as pious; things that seem messy, dirty, or unkept in our lives, we sweep under the carpet.

But this is so much nonsense! Take a good, prayerful look at Psalm 139 sometime: "O Lord, you have searched me and known me. Tell the Lord what's happening in your life— the good, the bad, and the ugly. Tell him what's frightening you and what's depressing you. Confess your sins before him in the manner of David and Peter and tell him how guilty you feel when you sin. There is a lot of talk of tears in the Bible; In fact, the saints speak of the "gift of tears." If anything shows that you're not just going through the motions, this is it.

Speak your anger to him— especially your anger at him. I love the story of a woman whose husband was in the hospital for many months, dying of a terrible illness. There was a statue of the Blessed Mother outside of the hospital, and one day, the wife became so frustrated that, upon leaving the hospital, she began to pick up rocks and dirt and throw them at the statue. Security ran out to stop her, but one of the sisters held them back, saying, "No— don't stop her. She's praying." Consider the number of figures in the Bible who regularly expressed this sort of frustration, confusion, and anger to God: the Psalmist, Abraham, Moses, Jeremiah, and above all, Job.
